Echoes of '44

SENIOR ANNUAL

DEDICATION

We, the Seniors of 1944, wish to dedicate this book and the simple thought that we wish to convey with it to the memory of James Ward, in recognition of the part he has taken in helping to make the world a better place in which to live. James Ward was the first Gilman High School graduate who gave his life for his country in World War II, being killed in action on Bougainville Island as a member of the famous hard-fighting Carlson Raider group of the Marine Corps in the South Pacific Area.

CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1931, the senior class of '44 came into existence. The members of that beginning class were: Doris DeWitt, Phyllis Briggs, Patty Campbell, Donald Ellis, George Hobbs, Gaylord Fanton, Gladys Gunderson, Lee Hauser, Kenneth Ludlow, Audrey Latham, Shirley Matney, Dorothy Meling, Wayne Richardson, Patty Waltemeyer, Maurice Tufte, Tommy Thompson, Gretchen Wiseman, Donald Robertson, Ray McPherron, Lee Paul, Fred Paul, Raymond Schultz, Betty Jean Emmert, and Bill Davis.

Miss Helen Mead conducted us through our first year without any great disasters. We were welcomed into second grade by Miss Florence Dunkle, and when we advanced to third grade we were joined by Raymond Quigley. Miss Dorothy Irons skillfully guided us through the year of 1933. THEN CATAS-TROPHE STRUCK!!! One peaceful March morning a new member who proved to be a continual headache to the teachers from that day forward arrived. His name?? Virgil Tone.

In the fifth grade we picked up Doris Shuler. The boys were still at it as usual with the regular noon fights. One eventful day these brawls were called to the attention of Mr. Briggs which resulted in a half hour sermon on good conduct. All during the sermon a friendly spider amused us by swinging gracefully from his chin. Pete Robertson was especially amused, and, as a result, a lecture was pointedly turned in his direction.

Other than the arrival of Bill Wiseman, the sixth year was fairly uneventful. The next year was the great year we were promoted to the new building, and where we were to stay for six more trying years. That year we were joined by Marcia Carey. Miss Tuttle and Mr. Bryant were our instructors for both years of Junior High. LaVonne Doane joined forces with our happy throng in the eighth grade.

Ninth grade and we were started on our four years in high school. Algebra proved to be a trial, but Mr. Sefrit passed all of us. In shop class the boys learned what the board of education really meant (it was a small pine board that each victim autographed). Three country school pupils joined us during that year. They were Richard Clay, Genevieve Strand, and Irene Weir. We soon acquainted ourselves with our surroundings, and became full fledged members of G. H. S. after initiation.

Tenth grade and we could call ourselves genuine high school students. Just as we thought there was nothing new under the sun, who should walk in and join our happy little clan, but none other than Loren L. Mc Allister, the sage of public school No. 5. "Snerd" was destined to become the greatest typist ever graduated from Gilman. In this year we had the time honored, traditional pleasure of initiating the freshmen. After this we settled down to the routine work of passing the year. All of us enjoyed Biology class and Mr. Van Winkle's paddle. (continued on next page).

Our Junior year started off with no noticeable excitement. Except for the steady progression of bookkeeping instructors, which, before the end of the year, continued until we had five, finally keeping one. In December we started on the production of our first extravaganza, the Junior Production of "Big Hearted Herbert." The year progressed uneventfully until the latter part of the year, when we had the traditional Junior-Senior Banquet at Stone's cafe in Marshalltown. After the Banquet most of us had visions of finally becoming seniors.

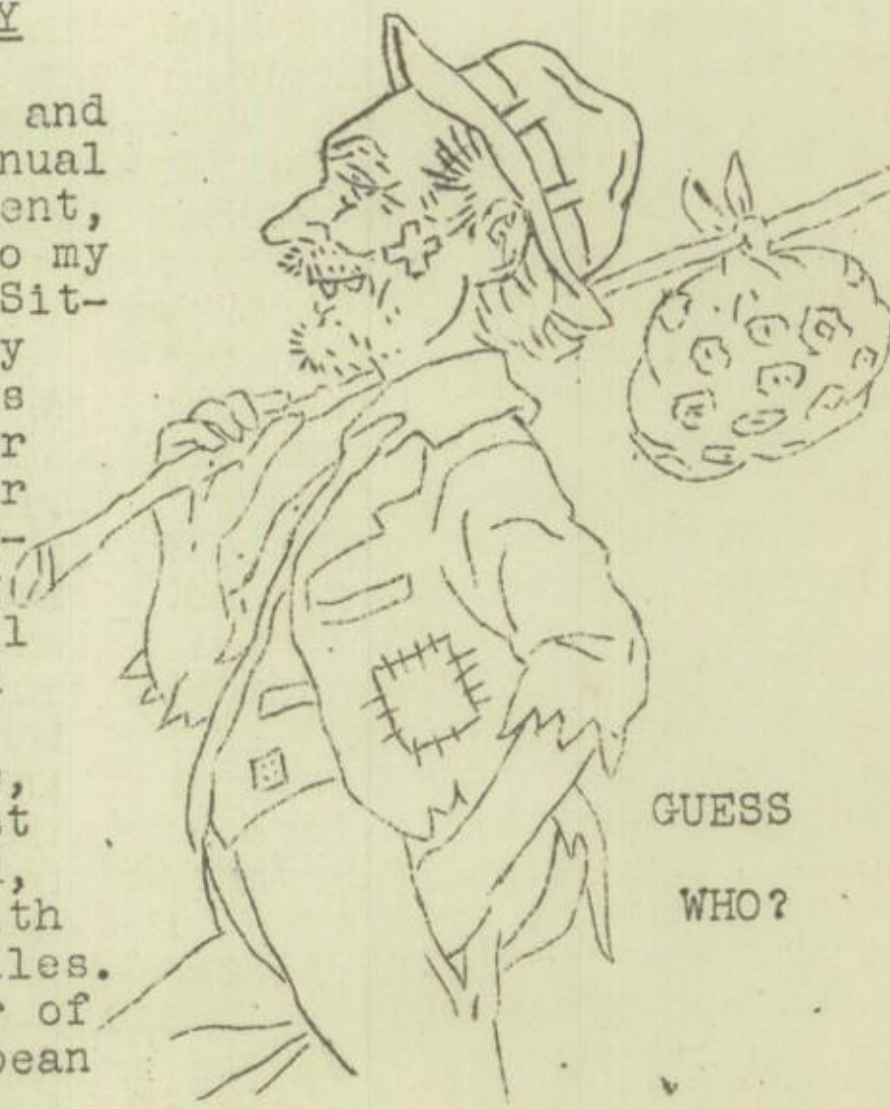

Our last year of school, we now could be treated as upper-upper-classmen. We have now attained the highest rung in our climb to master the elements of higher education. The year started off uneventful. Preparation for graduation started out early with the selection of the announcements which we bought from the Josten Company. Things continued on their merry way until March 15, when the Senior Class took the yearly Skip Day. On this morning of the fifteenth Des Moines was shocked and dazed by the sudden arrival of the Senior Class, and immediately gave them the key to the city, and then changed locks. The class then toured the Banker's Life building and after that made private tours of the city. Work was then continued on the Senior Play which proved to be a big success. Graduation day and commencement now mark the final milestones on our highway to success in this phase of our journey.

O U R P R O P H E C Y

It is the spring of 1954 and I, Tommy Thompson, on my annual conference with the president, approach the desk to find to my surprise a familiar face. Sitting at the main desk busily looking over the President's correspondence is none other than Marcia Carey, who after graduation left for Washington D. C. After conversing for a few minutes, we fell into the subject of our old classmates.

It seems that Virgil Tone, the stunt driver who first started out driving a Ford, is now touring the world with his fleet of fifty automobiles. Donald Robertson, Commander of the West Pacific and Carribean

SENIOR WILL

We, the Senior Class of '44, being of sound mind and body, and an energetic memory, do hereby make and publish this our last will and testament, thereby revoking any previously contracted during the hectic and nerve shattering exposure in Gilman High School.

WITNESSETH:

We hereby bequeath to the following, the beneficiaries of this will, made and entered into on this twenty second of April in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-Four:

PROVIDING:

That each beneficiary to this agreement shall, according to this will and testament, agree to faithfully and loyally undertake to uphold these responsibilities transacted, TO HAVE AND TO HOLD FROM THIS DAY FORWARD.

FIRST:

To the harrassed and bewildered faculty, we do leave good cheer and unpleasant memories of days before.

SECOND:

To the Class of '45, we leave our supreme position in this institution, to carry on all the high ideals which we now sorrowfully leave behind in our never ending climb towards?

THIRD:

To the various and sundry persons in the aforementioned list, to be done as soon after our decease as may be done conveniently;

I, Marcia Carey, do bestow upon Joanne Spencer my singing ability. To Bob Kvinlaug, Richard Clay leaves his ability to get his geometry. I, Dorothy Brown, do hereby bequeath my shyness to Martin Lovig. LaVonne Doane leaves her intelligence to Danny Parmley. Lee Hauser wills to Mrs. Rhum his slow, southern drawl, for use in telephone conversations. Kenneth Ludlow bestows his '32 Chevy to Marjorie Weidner. To Jack Lovig, Loren McAllister leaves his graceful poise and genteel air. Colleen Palmer gives her giggles to Betty Shuler. I, Lee Paul, hereby give my ambition and way with women to Maurice Tufte. Raymond Quigley gratefully leaves his typing vocabulary to Joan Huston. Wayne Richardson hereby leaves his hog-raising ability, and gentle humor, to Bud McAteer. Donald Robertson leaves his intense love of referees, in particular one from the near south, to Duane Muckler. I, Raymond Schultz, do leave my sense of humor to Carl Crawford. I, Doris Shuler, want Lucille Zimmerman to carry on with my flirtations during her high school career. Genevieve Strand leaves her blond locks to Hazel Bennett and her dancing ability to Gene Patterson. I, Tommy Thompson, now bequeath my southern journeys to Walter Brown, and my gentle voice to Mr. Rhum. Virgil Tone leaves his snappy comebacks to Wayne Paul, and his ability to come in on a rim and a spare to Richard Dougherty. Irene Weir's War Stamp sales duties to Vivian Stonewall. Bill Wiseman leaves his stupendous line to Richard Lowry. Gretchen Wiseman cheerfully bestows upon Darlene Waltemeyer a few excess pounds. IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereto subscribed my name and affixed my seal this twentieth second day of April, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Fourty-Four.

Squadron, has just arrived for a brief conference with the Secretary of the Navy. Further discussion shows that Gretchen Wiseman is happily married and living on a 600 acre farm, doing the ranch work while the husband does the housework. Doris Shuler, it seems, from her practical knowledge, has joined the F. B. I. Irene Weir is running a matrimonial bureau in Chicago with Raymond Schultz as an assistant. After her completion of a course in beauty culture, Genevieve Strand opened a shop, "Beauty Shoppe de luxe", which now has become one of the most popular ones in the country. Loren McAllister, after many heartbreaks, has settled down to farming, and still is looking for a wife. "Chester Whites" has become the famous name of Wayne Richardson's livestock and has gained him fame throughout the country. Bill Wiseman and Lee Hauser are both happily married and are successful farmers which they attribute to their study of Farm Management under Mr. E.J. Wilms. Richard Clay, the geometry whiz, is now substituting for one of the Quiz Kids on the radio. Dorothy Brown is now a graduate nurse and has secured a position in New York City. Raymond Quigley is now running a beverage stand with pool tables attached in the city of Chicago. LaVonne Doane is now a socialite in the big town of Laurel, getting married soon after the war. Lee Paul has turned hermit after many heartbreaking experiences. From her interest in speech class, Colleen Palmer has now become a kindergarten teacher in Potter.

As I was leaving the building, I was stopped by a distinguished member of Congress, none other than Kenneth Ludlow, who through his affiliations with the Democratic party obtained an office.

Happy to find out about all my old classmates, I once more depart for my home.

SENIOR CLASS SONG

Tune--(San Fernando Valley)

We're the Senior Class
Of '44
We've been in school
Twelve years or more,
And now we're goin' out all alone
To try to make a living of our own.

We know that we will be leaving
Next Friday evening,
And you will all be sorry we've gone,
We hope that we've been good students
Never a nuisance
Gee, we'll be alone from now on.

We're the Senior Class
Of '44
We're bright and gay,
We know the score;
Our days are over in old Gilman High
And we all want to bid you G O O D---B Y E!

CLASSES

SENIOR CLASSES

In typing classes we have covered the greater part of our textbook. Richard Clay, Genevieve Strand, LaVonne Doane, Marcia Carey, Lee Hauser, Kenneth Ludlow, Donald Robertson, Tommy Thompson, Wayne Richardson, Raymond Schultz, Gretchen Wiseman, Irene Weir, and Raymond Quigley have received "30 word" certificates. LaVonne Doane, Genevieve Strand, Marcia Carey, have received "40 word" bronze pins. Marcia Carey and LaVonne Doane have received "50 word" silver pins. LaVonne Doane has received a "60 word" gold pin. Mr. Voelker seems to think there is still room for improvement. I heard him tell one of the other teachers that he couldn't depend on any of us to type stencils because we made so many errors.

American Government classes consisted of studies of the development of our country and laws that have been introduced as our way of living has become more complex.

In Economics, we have made a thorough study of the four main cycles of economics: consumption, production, exchange and distributions and their relation to the lives of each of us. In both of these latter subjects Mr. Rhum has managed to come through with a weekly test on the "Weekly News Review."

In Geometry we have dealt with all types of figures: triangles, circles, polygons, rectangles, and the relations between their sides and angles. We also had some work in trigonometry. The other day Mrs. Kelley started to criticize her own teaching. She says she gives us too much help but no body agrees with her.

Last semester we had quite an enjoyable time in Salesmanship. We spent the majority of our time learning the qualifications of a good salesman and how to develop and make use of these qualities in every day living, by selling our services or using it as a profession. Miss Haas, our instructor, seemed to be a great economist--she was always saving waste paper.

English Literature classes have taken up the greater part of our time these last few weeks--we have read selections contributed by the different races that have ruled England. Beginning with the old English Period, we read "Beowulf" written by the Anglo-Saxons. The most important selection of the Middle English period was Geoffrey Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales." In the Elizabethan Period, we read "Macbeth" by Shakespeare. The contributions of the Puritan were made by John Milton and John Bunyan, while the age of Classicism was marked by Alexander Pope's epigrams that are quoted so often, such as "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread." The lyric poetry of Robert Burns and William Wordsworth, and the essays of Charles Lamb, during the Romantic period, were some of the more modern selections we studied. We have enjoyed very much the book reports that Mrs. Rhum assigns us every six weeks also.

The juniors started out at the beginning of this year with high spirits and big hopes. We're not saying that we're getting discouraged or anything but we are wearing down slightly!!! Possibly there's a reason--I'll name a few.

We first took up the courses of history and English as the major subjects. Then, there were a few variations along the lines of speech, geometry, agriculture, and salesmanship. The second semester brought a change both in subject and teacher. We changed from salesmanship to economics and from Miss Haas to Mr. Rhum.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhum should know the juniors quite intimately by the time school is out. Mr. Rhum has to put up with us through history and economic classes while Mrs. Rhum struggles with us in English and speech classes.

The juniors are feeling an added responsibility with the year for which plans for the junior-senior banquet are required. It will be a new experience and probably a thrilling one for most of the girls since they will get to wear a formal for the first time.

I've heard some of the juniors say that it is going to seem pretty dull around school here next year without the seniors. I think that same thought runs through all the student's minds though. It simply means that the juniors will have to stir up some excitement to make the old school seem natural.

Maybe you'd like to know a little more about our subjects--so here goes. In history we've been studying all about the American civilization. Civil wars, Spanish American wars, etc... In English we've spent most of our time on literature. But definitely! It seems that we've taken everything from Bret Harte's local color stories up to Walt Whitman's stylish poetry. We'd covered a lot of territory! In economics we've studied about all (really) kinds of social life so we ought to be able to get along better in society and also in the business world. Speech is giving the students more poise and is trying to teach the student to be more at ease before the public eye.

We started the year with sixteen members, but one left after six weeks.

The first big event of the year for us was the initiation of the freshmen pupils. As the custom goes, the freshmen were dressed in off costumes of all kinds, which they wore to school all day. An assembly program was held in the afternoon and the actual initiation took place in the evening.

After the fireworks were over, games were played and refreshments served. Later, as a return appreciation, the freshmen gave the sophomores a party.

English has been divided between the study of literature and grammar. In this class, under the direction of Mrs. Rhum, we organized a club, "Soaring Sophs" and had meetings according to Parliamentary Law. Later we incorporated this club into our class and had class officers as club officers.

History class has been devoted to the study of men of ancient times, of whom we know so little.

After completing a semester of business arithmetic, this class obtained new books and took up general business.

The Sophomore class had five boys on the basketball squad for the year. They are Robert Kvinlaug, Gene Patterson, Bud McAteer, Wayne Paul, and Danny Parmley.

Nadine Stonewall and Ethelyn Holmes were our distinguished representatives as cheer leaders for the year.

The Sophomore girls were the victors in the high school basketball tournament with a score of 27-24, and the boys came in for a close second in their tournament with a score of 26-23, being defeated by the seniors.

In Biology we have studied the lives of various animals, also learning the essential parts of all flowers and the working parts of the human body.

The final activity of the Sophomore class was the presentation of a one-act play near the close of the year, which proved to be hilarious entertainment for all.

Six sophomores are members of the Crops & Soils class.

FRESHMEN CLASSES

President.	Lewis Green
Vice-President	Jean Sawyer
Secretary.	Gordon Lavender
Treasurer.	Louise Westerfield
Sponsor.	Mr. Rhum

The freshman class entered Gilman High School with an enrollment of 14. Since last fall, Paul Hamre has moved, leaving 13 in the class at the present time.

After being duly initiated into high school by the sophomores early in the fall, the freshmen threw a party, inviting the sophomores. (Which is really gratitude).

The freshman algebra class studied first addition and subtraction of signs, which they are still struggling to master. After that, in order, they covered equations, monomials, binomials, and polynomials. When they proceeded with fractional equations, it became difficult for most of the class, and, as a result, some of the class are still much in the dark after long hours of study.

The rest of the class covered graphs of linear equations and systems of equations. The work this year proved very interesting and most of the freshmen enjoy algebra more than they thought they would.

Interesting topics in English included punctuation, parts of speech, writing letters, and book reports. We know this study has been very beneficial to us and will come in handy in the coming years.

The freshman science class just has seven freshman girls in it. They have covered some very interesting topics this year. They learned about the different classifications of plants and animals, how they behave, and how they are fitted to the conditions around them.

They have found that the earth is slowly changing in many ways. Also, that geologists have many different ways to discover the history of the earth. Reports have been given this year on new science discoveries, and other articles which are included under science. The class visited the boiler room, and Mr. Waltemeyer explained how the stoker worked and the pipes which carry heat and water to different parts of the building.

All of the boys are enrolled in Manual Training, which is taught by Mr. Rhum. The first semester was spent on mechanical drawing, while the second semester was spent out in the shop putting some of the things into practice which were learned in the classroom. Many interesting and useful articles were made in shop.

All of the boys were enrolled in Farm Crops and Soils, (see pages 30 and 31), and the girls were all enrolled in Home Economics. (see page 32).

Besides classwork, activities enjoyed were baseball, basketball, glee club, and instrumental music.

JUNIOR HIGH

In English the Junior High has attained the goal of better written expression, and an acquaintance with more and better literature. We wrote monologues, plays, character sketches, and ghost stories and poetry; and, of course, we were introduced to such items as gerunds, phrases and clauses.

Social studies for the seventh grade conveyed them to many odd places on the earth. Yes, we can truthfully say we have traveled from Togo to Siam; from India to Hammerfest, Norway; and from our own industrial region to the frozen tundra of the North. During the months of September and October a large chalk mural made by our class was displayed.

Eighth grade spent a good deal of time dealing with American history. They studied the constitution and its convention, the opening of the new frontiers and the settlement of our various other industrial centers. Our political system was thoroughly investigated.

In science the seventh grade studied magnetism as a highlight of the years' work. Other topics included the changing surface of the earth, the 92 elements from which our existence depends, and natural science.

The eighth grade under the supervision of Mrs. Erickson made scrapbooks about scientific subjects. Under the direction of Mrs. Kelly the arithmetic classes rapidly progressed.

Our outside activities boasted of a good showing in the magazine sale for the athletic fund. Our Junior High furnished a musical background for "National Education Week Program." Two evenings of dramatic production for the public climaxed the years' English activity. We had a large enrollment in the First Aid course of the Red Cross. Scouting and 4-H are the clubs in which we are most interested.

James Paul and Dale Stonewall placed first and second respectively, in the local spelling contest held March 24.

Basketball was a popular winter sport in the Junior High.

THERE'S THE LAST BELL!!!

SIXTH GRADE

We formed a club and named it S.G.S.C. We hold a meeting every Friday afternoon. On the last Friday of each month we elect new officers for the month. We have a president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer. Our president appoints librarians, program, refreshment, and entertainment committees. We collect dues for each month and spend that money for refreshments for our parties.

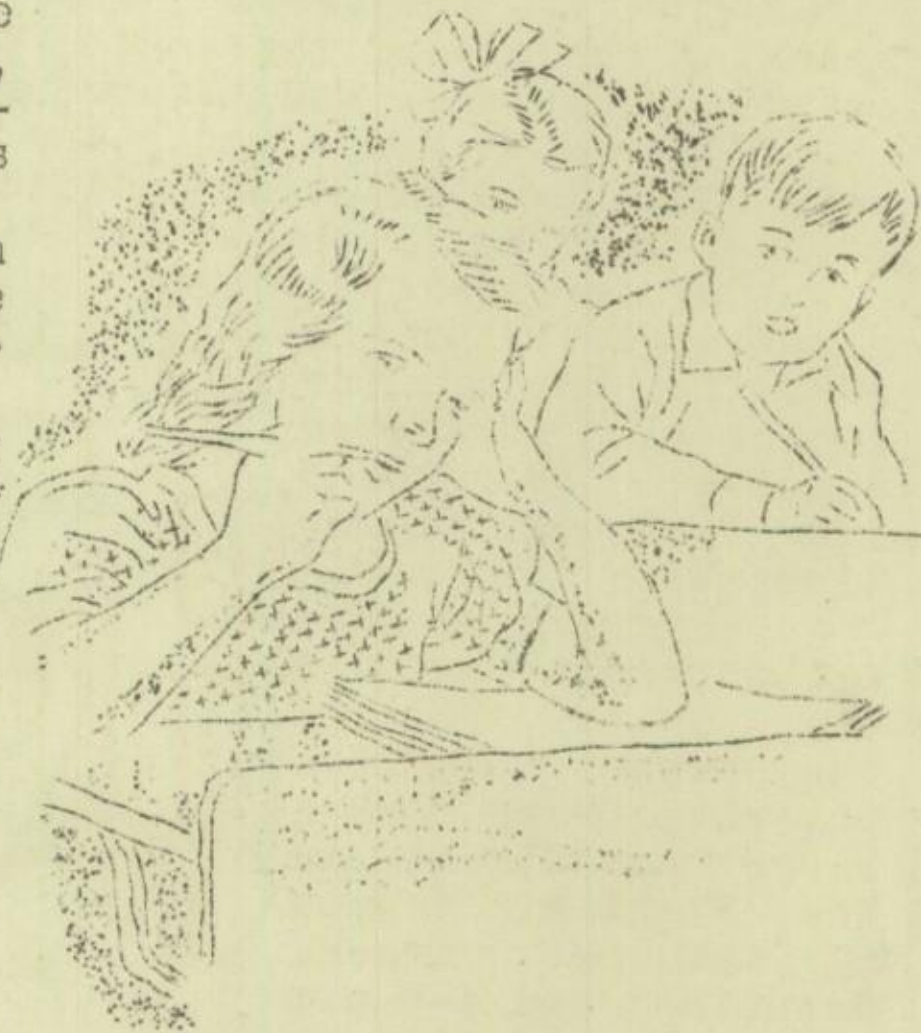

We built a microphone so that we could do broadcasting. Just before Washington's birthday, we wrote original skits about his boyhood. On his birthday, we broadcast Virgil's and Beverly's skits to the rest of the grades.

We wrote original Thanksgiving plays. We selected David's as the best and dramatized it for some of the other grades.

We especially enjoyed our study of Iowa History. We made an Indian project while we were studying it. Each of us made a canoe and a tepee and different members of the class made scenery, warriors, squaws, deer and other animals, tom-toms, and skins being dried on poles.

We had three people on the honor roll. They are Beverly Duxbury, Fern Winders, and David Paul.

Our boys played basketball against the seventh graders. In the first game we lost by only one point, the score being 11 to 12. In a return game they defeated us by a score of 12 to 7. We enjoyed our basketball workouts very much under the expert coaching of Miss Ostendorf.

FIFTH GRADE

We can remember what products the different states have because while we were studying the United States we made a large map and glued little samples of each product on the map, corresponding with the place in the United States where it it produced.

To help us remember what foods contain the various vitamins, we made a vitamin chart. We cut out pictures of the foods which contained certain vitamins and pasted them on our chart under the name of the vitamin which they contained.

FOURTH & FIFTH GRADES

We had a perfect record on our Junior Red Cross Honor Roll. We also have a Spelling chart to show us our progress in spelling. Four colors are used. Blue--no words missed, yellow--one word, green--two words, and red--three words missed. Our Health Honor Roll succeeded in keeping most of our faces and hands clean.

On our book table is a display showing the stages of our milk supply--from the cow to our table. Freddie Weaver brought some snails while several others brought frogs at the beginning of the year.

In fourth grade health class we made health booklets on the care of the teeth and proper foods for healthy bodies. We also made posters illustrating some phases of our health study.

Our geography class studied many interesting children. When studying farm life, we made model plans for a farm and put them on oak tag. We gave reports on sea foods when talking about fishermen.

History is an interesting subject. We spent some time in marking explorers' voyages on maps in different colors. Reports on these men were given from time to time.

We succeeded in mastering our multiplication tables in Arithmetic.

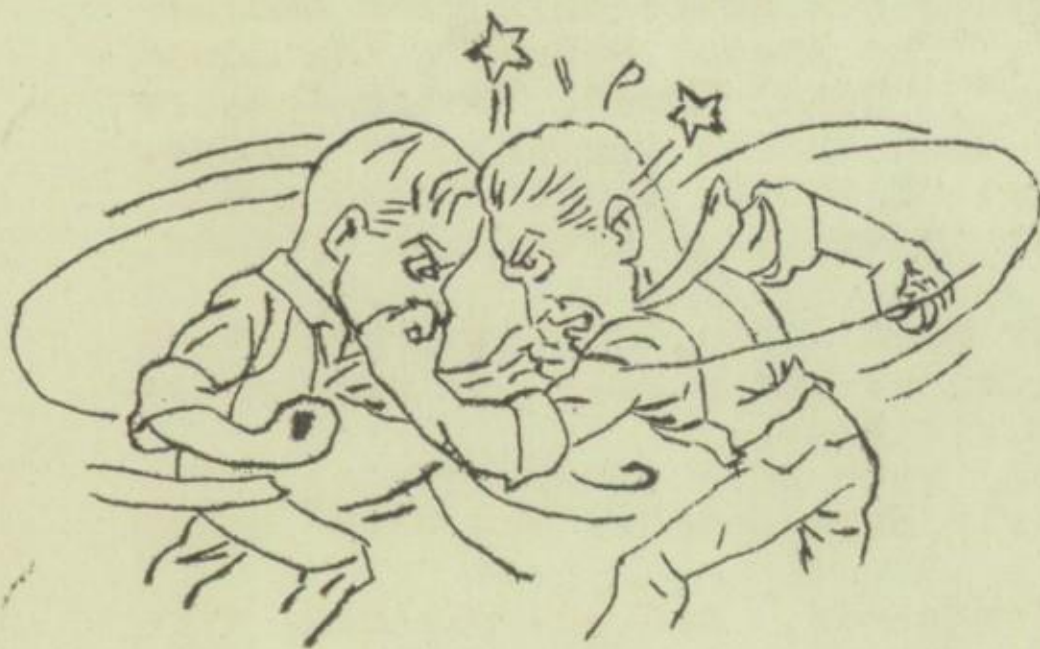

Correct usage, short talks, letter writing, and poetry are some of the things we have done in fourth language. In the fifth grade we made a poetry booklet to be left in the room for others to enjoy. Some of the topics are: Weather, Trees, Birds, Holidays, Animals, People, Fun, Fairies, and Travel. Our next project took us into puppets.

We all brought potatoes and string beans to art class to make animals. Also vegetable men out of colored paper proved interesting. We've illustrated many other art projects.

The Honor Roll so far this year is composed of the following: Fifth grade--Jo Ann Lovig and Norma L. Stonewall.

Jane Sears, Wayne Stonewall and Norma L. Stonewall took part in the Spelling contest.

We gained Russell Shrine in the fourth grade but lost Richard Phillips. While losing Norma Hamre, we gained Marielee VandeKamp in the fifth grade.

MANY A SPANKING FOR THIS!!!!

SECOND & THIRD GRADES

When our classes gathered in September, we found seventeen familiar faces in the second grade, and thirteen in the third grade. In January, Jerry Riley moved back and entered second grade. New additions to the third grade in the spring were Shirley Olson, Martha Brush, and Marvin Shine. Marlys Hulin moved in February, leaving fifteen third grade pupils and eighteen second graders.

Loretta Lowery and Katherine Peak are the only ones who have been neither absent nor tardy.

Each grade had two sets of new readers this year. Those for the second grade were, "Friends and Neighbors" and "More Friends and Neighbors." Those for the third grade were "Streets and Roads" and "More Streets and Roads." We have found that they contain many interesting stories about animals, people, and fairies. Other new books this year included "Animals, Round the Year", "The Insect Parade", "An Aquarium", "Plants Round the Year", "Doing Work", "Water Appears and Disappears." These were used by all the primary grades.

Art work, especially that of the boys, has shown a definite patriotic trend. Our materials have been crayons, colored chalk, and paint.

Many mothers visited our room during National Education Week and at other times throughout the year. We are always glad to have them and others visit us.

In late October we, along with the other grades, presented the operetta, "The Early Bird Catches the Worm" under the direction of Miss Gray.

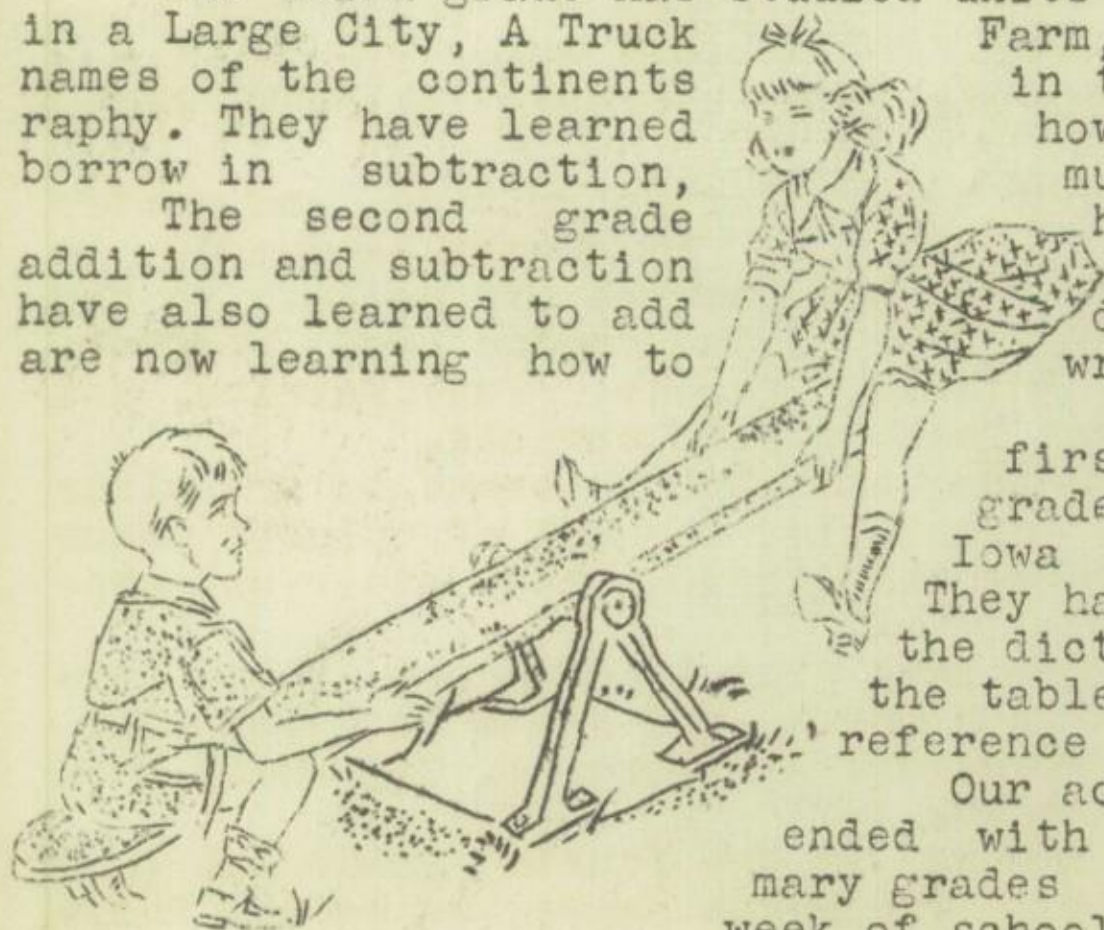

Most of us ordered garden seeds, and are planning victory gardens for this summer.

The third grade has studied units on the Farm Home, Life in a Large City, A Truck Farm, and have learned the names of the continents in their study of geography. They have learned how to carry in addition, borrow in subtraction, multiply, and divide.

The second grade have learned all the combinations. We have also learned to add dollars and cents. We are now learning how to write the ABC's.

At the end of the first semester the third graders were given the Iowa Every Pupil Tests. They have learned the use of the dictionary, the index, the table of contents, and reference books.

Our activities for the year ended with a picnic of the primary grades at the park the last week of school.

FIRST GRADE

We do manuscript writing in first grade. We can print our ABC's, our names, and all the words that we've had in reading.

In Numbers we have learned to count and write by ones to one-hundred, by fives to one-hundred, by tens to one-hundred, and by twos to one-hundred. We also learned our addition combinations through 5 plus 9.

Art has many interesting phases. We don't go out of the line when we color. We try to make it as neat as we can. Drawing and cutting are a lot of fun. We like to see how well we can draw and cut things out free hand. Sharon Lee Long and Nancy Brown are especially outstanding in Art.

Units made our studies more interesting. When we read about transportation, we brought all kinds of transportation that we had. Toy cars, trucks, horses, wagons, etc. Pictures were drawn to illustrate the different ways of traveling.

In our grocery store unit we brought boxes, cans and bread wrappers which we stuffed with paper to make it look like a loaf of bread. One pupil brought paper money and we learned how to count money and make change. It was great fun to play store.

One day we read a story about the farm and we decided to make a farm in Art class, so we gathered together all the cardboard we had and divided ourselves into groups. One group made the barn and silo; one group a house; one group a shed; one group pictures of a garden, oats, corn, and wheat; and another group made the fences. Someone brought a toy truck, car and a wheel-barrow. Toy animals were made to put in the poster.

Our last large activity of the year was a Victory Garden. We used an oblong sand box. The boys brought soil to put in the box and the girls brought seed to sow. We had sweet corn, radishes, lettuce, carrots, Swiss chard, beets, zinnias and sweet peas. These were planted in V-shape rows. Outside of our Victory Garden, in tin cans, we planted field corn, sweet corn, potatoes, beans, and oats.

To brighten up our school-room, one of the girls brought bright colored material to cover the open shelves, and our teacher Miss Ver Ploeg, brought a fish bowl with water plants and two goldfish. We had a lot of fun seeing the fish come to the top of the water to get the food that we fed them.

KINDERGARTEN

We have a lot of fun dramatizing, retelling, and making up stories. "Little Red Riding Hood" and "The Three Bears" were our favorites. We have telling time every day. It's fun to tell our playmates what we did after school.

In numbers, most of us can count to 50 or 100 and we can read them up to 10.

We liked the free activity period the best. We could draw, color, play with our toys, or anything else we enjoyed doing. At the first of the year we didn't have any consideration for our classmates, but as time passed we developed a liking and learned to play and work with each other.

We had several special units such as: the grocery store, the circus, the airport and the postoffice. One day we took a trip to the city post office, and saw all the boxes and where our mail is sorted.

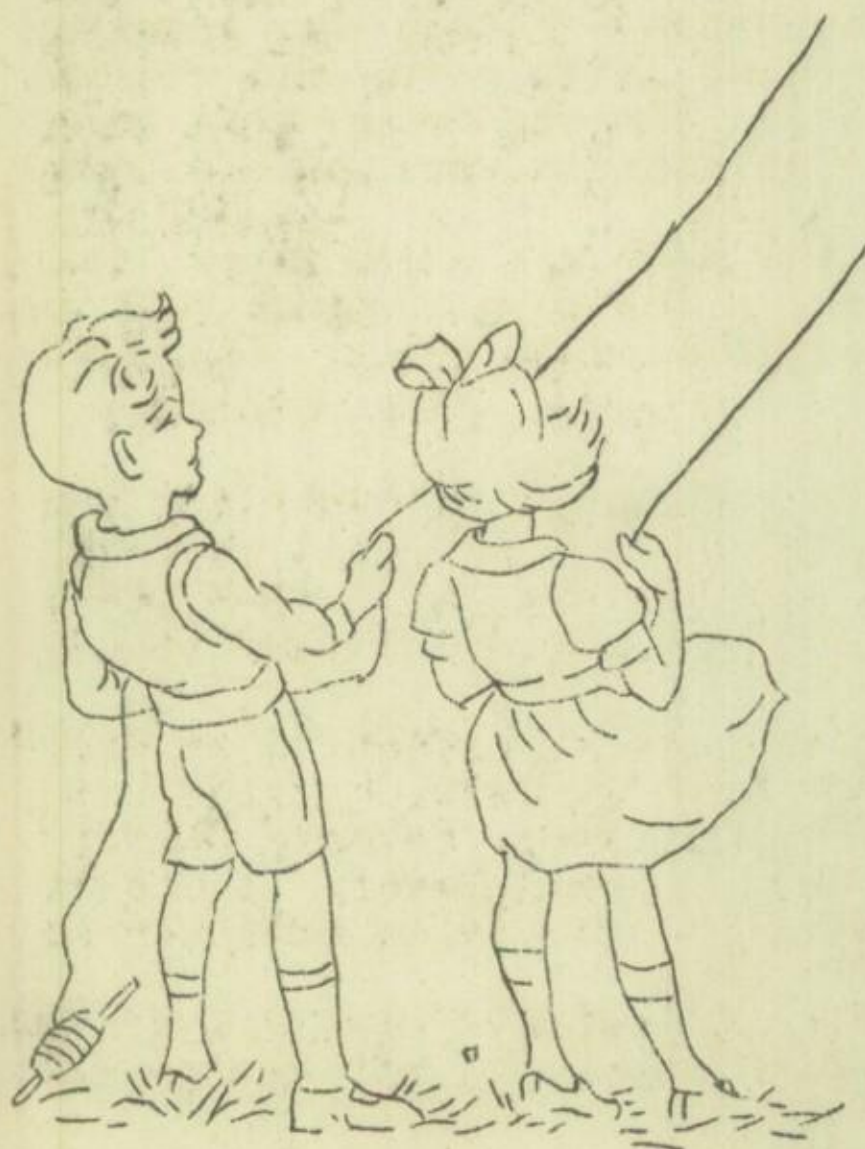

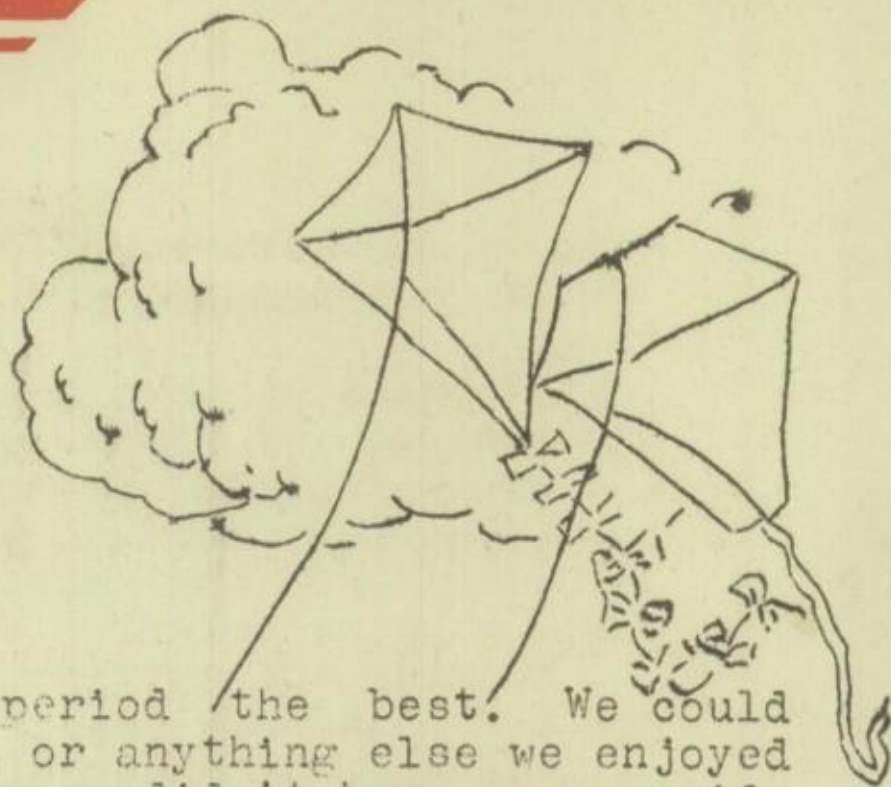

Our reading was made interesting by stories, personal, and group experiences, labels, games, and our teacher drew pictures on our seatwork which we were allowed to color. After going through our workbook "Before We Read" we read in the first Pre-primer "We Look and See." We now have a vocabulary of 30 or more words. Every one of us can write our name in manuscript writing.

We studied several different themes, such as: school, playground, pets, food, travel, etc.

We enjoyed listening to a radio program once every day and twice on Friday called "The Childrens' Corner Hour" over WOI. Here we heard music and stories which gave us much joy.

February brought a great experience into our lives. Our teacher, Mrs. Maron, left us, and Miss Kinzer became our new teacher.

We began the school year with 22 pupils. Since then we have lost 1 girl and 1 boy, Mary Walker and Richard Gallentine, and gained 3 boys and 1 girl, Jimmy Walton, Larry Anderson, Richard Riley, and Sharon Raney.

- MUSIC -

Grade school music can be divided into 5 phases:

(1) Rote Singing, which comprises songs of the various seasons, of home and community life, of holidays, of school, and the folk songs of many countries, helps the child to acquire the use of his natural voice.

(2) Sight Singing has its basis in rote singing, but through the use of syllables in reading and observation songs, enables the child to sing a number from notation without first having to hear the tune.

(3) Rhythmic Activities are carried out in order to give children better muscular coordination, and at the same time develop the sense of rhythm. These activities are similar to some of those carried on in various physical education programs.

(4) Music Theory Activities include the more common elements of music beginning with the musical alphabet, staves, clef signs, note and rest values, letter and syllable names, key signatures--both major and minor, various musical terms and the recognition of familiar melodies from notation.

(5) Music Appreciation was motivated through the telling of stories or poems in order to create a desirable attitude for the record to be played. Students were expected to recognize the number after it had been played.

All students of the first six grades presented an operetta "The Early Bird Catches the Worm". Leading roles were played by David Paul as President Rooster, Beverly Duxbury as the First Lady of Poultry Land, Ronald Lowery as Goosie Waddles, Jack Palmer as Dr. Quack, and Norma Lavender as Egg Plant.

The Kindergarten Rhythm Band played before the performance and Lee Paul played a French Horn solo "Serenade" between acts.

VOCATIONAL

A few days before school started, most of the boys were busy showing their beef and swine projects at the Central Iowa Fair at Marshalltown. Most of these projects were carried jointly in both the 4-H and agriculture departments.

The vocational agriculture department was awarded one of the Merit Awards furnished by the Des Moines Register and Tribune Company to organizations that did outstanding work in the field of food production. Gilman's award was granted chiefly on the help the Vocational Agriculture classes gave toward working at the local canning factory when labor was short, the excellent projects that are being carried out, and the services of Mr. Voelker as field man for the factory in addition to his teaching duties.

Two courses of agriculture were taught during the present school year. They were Farm Crops & Soils, and Farm Mechanics. On alternate years Animal Husbandry and Farm Management are offered. Freshmen and sophomores make up the one class, and juniors and seniors the other, so each student will take all four courses in his high school career.

Each student enrolled in vocational agriculture carries a productive project. The present projects of the 21 boys in classes embody the following enterprises: 19 sows and litters, 22 beef steers, 2 cows, 34 head of sheep, $3\frac{1}{2}$ A. soybeans, and $1\frac{1}{8}$ A. potatoes. Besides the productive projects, which this year include Weed Control, Fence Repair, Building Improvement, Liming, and various others. Each boy also selects a number of farm practices which he is going to carry out on his projects and on his father's home enterprises.

In Farm Crops & Soils class, types and classes of soil were studied, elements necessary to plant growth, liming, fertilizers, farm manure, and soil erosion control were covered with respect to soils. Crop rotations, seedbed preparation, and each of the common crops were emphasized, as well as how plants grow. Weeds, insects, and diseases were some units dealing with improved methods. The latter part of the year was spent on gardens, orchards, and fruits.

Both of the classes judged the classes of dairy cows in the Hoard's Dairyman. Several sales were attended by the agricultural classes, and many of the boys went individually to other sales to keep in touch with good breeding stock and price values.

A lamb-grading demonstration held in connection with the Grinnell Vocational Agricultural Department proved to be a worthwhile venture.

The Farm Mechanics class finished several large projects during the year. These include a portable hog house for Loren McAllister, hayracks for Wayne Richardson and Raymond Schultz, wagon boxes for Archie Lovig, Wayne Richardson, and Raymond Schultz. Many other small projects, such as chicken feeders, saw horses, and numerous other articles were made. Several wagons, boxes, trailers, etc. were brought in to be reconditioned and repainted. In addition, many school projects were completed, as well as tool sharpening by all members of the class.

Early in the fall the Farm Mechanics class took a beef tour to select beef calves. One dairy judging workout was held, but no team was entered at the Dairy Cattle Congress, because of restrictions on the use of gasoline.

A D U L T E V E N I N G S C H O O L

The adult evening school had an enrollment of a total of 47 adults. The average attendance was 20 at each meeting. A council of eight men met to decide upon the course content of evening school. Following are the meetings that were scheduled:

1. Outlook for 1944--Joe D. Miller, Co. Ext. Director
2. 1944 Farmer's Income Tax--Langdon Dodds, Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue
3. Feeding for Milk Production
4. Livestock Marketing Problems--Herman C. Aaberg
5. Diseases of Swine & Their Control
6. Land Boom Controls
7. Wartime Soil Management
8. Business Law as Applied to the Farm
9. Help Shortcuts
10. Housing and Management of Farm Livestock
11. Motion Pictures--Lubrication, Tractors, Fuels.

In addition, the fourth annual banquet was held at the Methodist Church at the completion of the series of meetings. Robert Lovig attended ten meetings. Other members who attended six or more meetings, thereby gaining attendance certificates were; John M. Paul, Archie Stonewall, Iver Iverson, W.J. Paxson, Howard Madill, David Paul, Victor Swift, A. B. Schultz, Frank Coppock, R. J. Paul, Archie Lovig, Robert Lavender, Lee A. Long, D. T. Lavender, R. B. Richardson, and Herbert Wiseman.

-- HOME ECONOMICS --

Our home economics class began the first of our study of home economics with a unit of personal appearance and clothing. This included a study of color theory and good grooming.

After learning how to use colors to the best advantage, and how to care for our clothing, we began a study of sewing. As soon as we had conquered the hand sewing processes, we learned the care and use of a sewing machine.

First we made two sets of curtains, one set for the kindergarten room and another for the third and fourth grade room.

Next, each of the seven girls in our class spent some time finding suitable patterns and materials. At last we were able to begin our first projects, which consisted of either a dress, pajamas, or a blouse. Each of the girls completed two projects.

If you had happened to visit our home economics class during the week before Christmas, you would have found us engaged in the making of Christmas gifts. These included stuffed toys and aprons.

During the second semester of home economics we took up cooking and the study of foods. There were seven members in our class, and we divided into groups each time we cooked.

We learned how to make muffins, baked apples, and cocoa. Then, we learned the proper care for babies and small children, and some first aid work was also included.

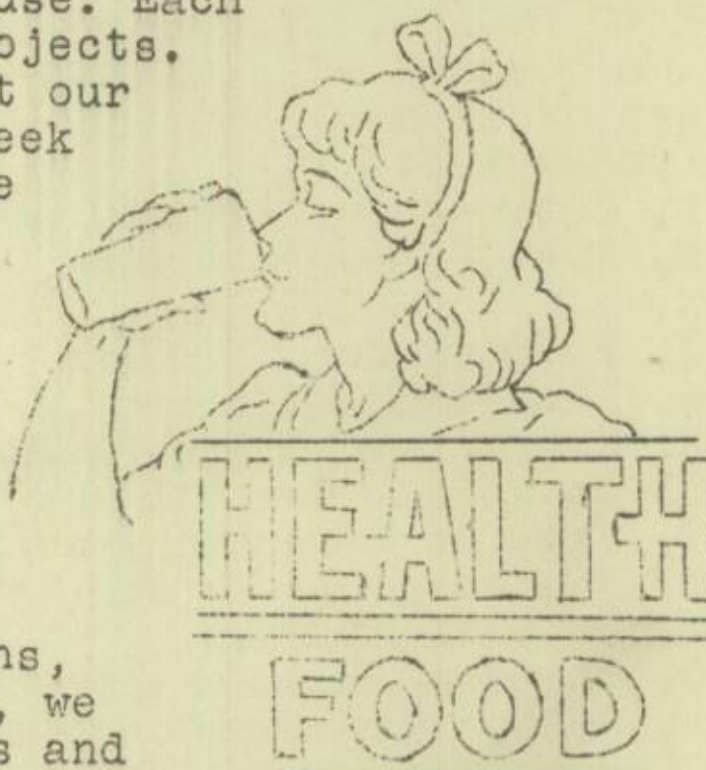

The last six weeks we took up the study of how to set a table, the different kinds of dishes, silverware, etc. to use, the correct ways to serve, and the correct manners which we should use.

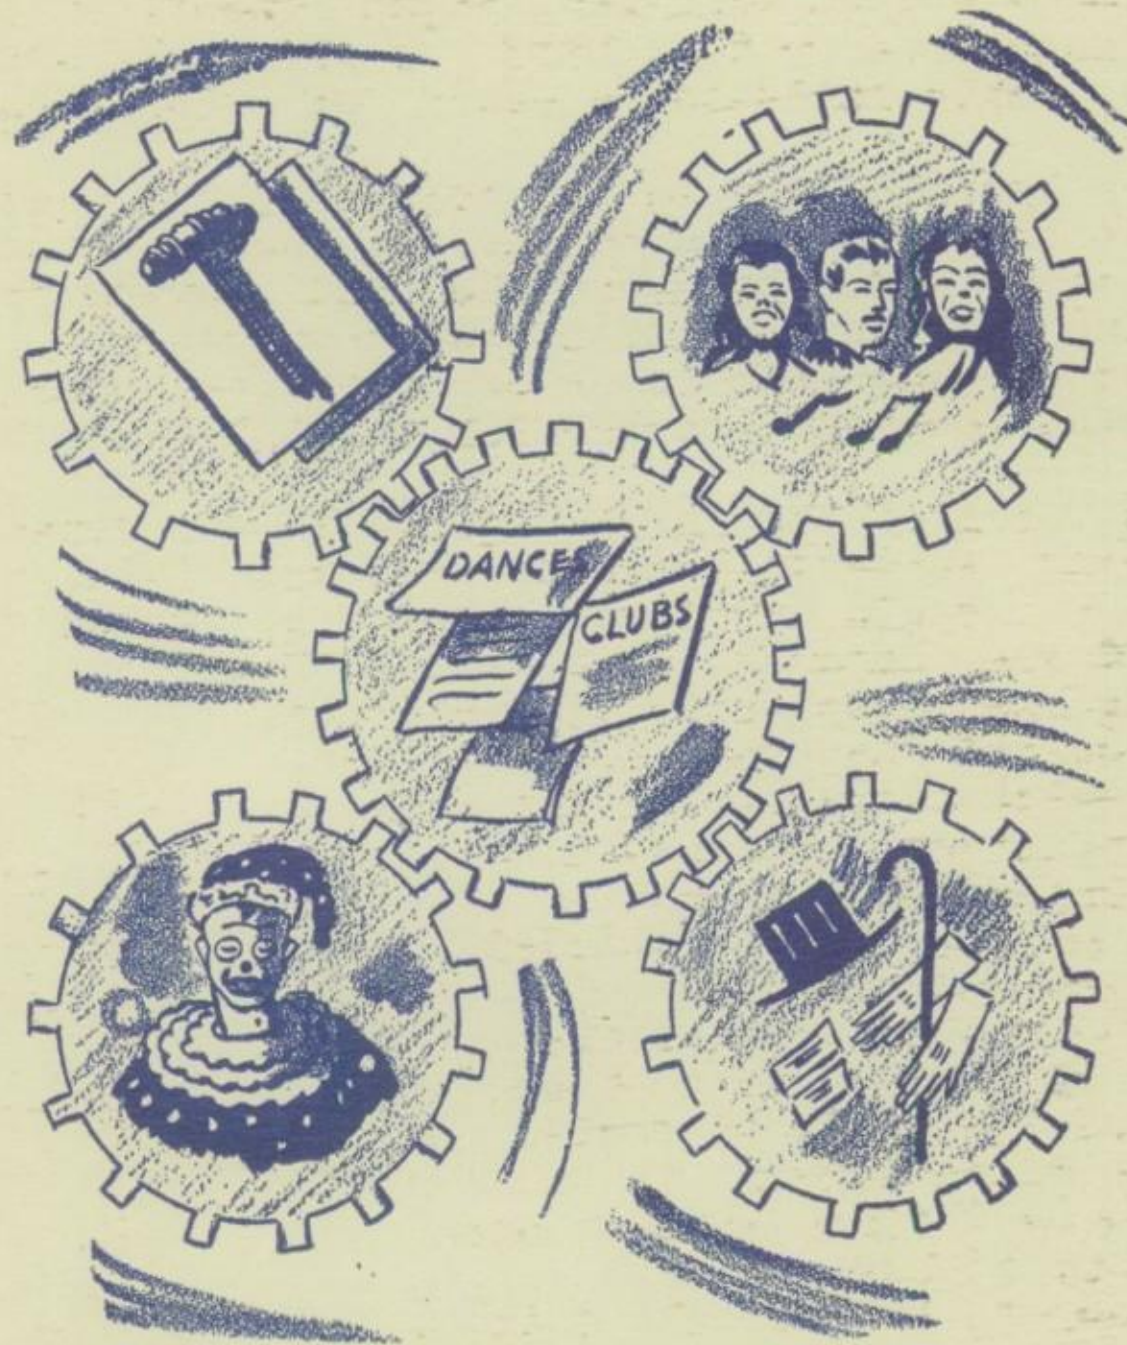

We had eighteen lessons on cooking. Each time we read a chapter, we discussed it in class, bringing out the most important points.

At the end of the year, we will learn to serve complete luncheon and dinner menus.

On May 2 the Home Economics class served an informal tea for the parents in connection with the annual school exhibit and senior class night program held on the same day.

Mrs. Erickson has been our home economics teacher for this year, and we have learned a lot under her guidance in this course.

JUNIOR
PLAY

'43-'44

OH-KAY!

The Juniors of 1943-44 gave their annual class play on Friday, October 15, 1943. "Oh Kay" was the name of the three act comedy, interspersed with mystery and thrills.

The cast was chosen after special deep thinking by Supt. Gordon J. Rhum, the director. Those receiving parts in this extravaganza were:

Arlene Swift as "Edith Whitman", an attractive girl of nineteen with vivid imagination and a rather emotional nature.

Richard Spencer as "Arthur Whitman", Edith's two or three year older brother, who considered his thoughts and decisions as the last wisdom.

Vivian Stonewall as "Evelyn Whitman", the mother of Arthur and Edith.

Gerald Green as "Captain Whitman", the father of the family.

Darlene Waltemeyer as "Gram Pembroke", a fussy old lady with a sharp tongue.

Walter Brown as "Gramp Pembroke", a wide awake, lovable old man who refused to grow old in spirit.

Shirley Shollenbarger as "Alice Borden", a friend of Edith's.

Duane Muckler as "The Black Terror", an impressive good looking man of forty or forty-five.

Joan Huston as "Kay Millis", a clever, charming detective with a dominant, positive personality.

Ted Gallentine as "Fred Alden", a man of Arthur's age.

Maurice Tufte as "Jim Hayes", an old man, friend of "Gramp's".

The entire cast portrayed their parts diligently, with the audience being especially impressed with those lovable old characters "Gram" and "Gramp" Pembroke.

Music between acts was furnished by Betty Shuler and Isla Moxley.

WHEN THE EDUCATION of youth goes wrong, sooner or later all goes wrong All the schools in the world will have to be reborn after this great conflict, if the boys who have died are not to have died in vain. In the years to come it will be even more important for the schools to teach character than to teach facts. In the teaching of character, the essential thing will be the ability of the teacher to kindle enthusiasm--enthusiasm for knowledge, but especially enthusiasm for the greater good. There is something about the spoken word of the person who is deeply moved inside which carries great conviction. Neither the book nor the radio can ever take the place of the face-to-face contact with the living teacher. May the emphasis on system never stam out of our schools the personal equation--the communication, by friendship and the power of the spoken word, of a boundless enthusiasm for all the facts of nature which lead to peace and vital living.--Henry A. Wallace.

Act III--Several weeks later. Early evening.

Our special thanks to:

Dr. Jack R. Lilly for operating the loud-speaking device.
Walter Brown for sketching the advertising posters.

One day, during the basketball season, the speech class decided what GHS needed was more school spirit. The team just didn't seem to be getting enough support from the student body. So--the speech class took over! What first aroused them was Raymond Schultz's fiery speech "condemning the students for their lack of support to our valient team. He promised a pep meeting such as had never graced the halls in the history of Gilman High School. He gave us what he promised amid a mixture of "The Chattanooga Choo-Choo," and a very serious operation on Danny Parmley.

After that, the student body looked up to the speech class for their pep meetings, as the class got into the habit. They soon recognized the many and varied talents of the members. In preparation for the pep assemblies, the class appointed a chairman to take charge and plan the program as it would send our team to victory. On the whole, we would say the pep meetings were successful and met with approval.

Chairmen following Raymond, active in the pep programs were Arlene Swift, Darlene Waltemeyer, Gretchen Wiseman, Isla Moxley, Genevieve Strand, Vivian Stonewall, Marcia Carey, and Loren McAllister. On the program a clever skit was usually presented, written by speech class members. When it came time for the county tournament they had a funeral for our first opponent, with weepers draped in mourning black and a solemn clergyman following the wreath-covered coffin. (Later, it seemed, the tables were turned on us).

A playlet that most pleased the students was the take-off of the faculty. Speech members took parts of teachers, and portrayed a typical day in Gilman High. The skit ended with "Coach Rhum" giving the team members a pep talk.

The active part the cheerleaders, Ethelyn Holmes and Nadine Stonewall, took in these programs was an important factor and is greatly appreciated by the student body.

MUSIC

The Gilman Girls' Trio, Marcia Carey, Gretchen Wiseman, and Arlene Swift, made some twenty public appearances during their last year's singing together. These included performances for P. T. A., various women's clubs, Farm Bureau meetings, church programs, high school assemblies, plays, Christmas and Spring musicals, music contest, banquet, and graduation.

The Boys' Quartette, composed of Raymond Schultz, Lee Hauser, Bill Wiseman, and Lee Paul sang various times for church, for the Night School Banquet, both the Christmas and Spring Musical Programs and for music contest.

Marcia Carey, Arlene Swift, Bill Wiseman, and Lee Paul made up the Mixed Quartette. They sang several times for churches, for Christmas and Spring Musical, Music contest, banquet, and commencement. During the time Lee Paul was ill, Raymond Schultz sang with the group.

Practically all members of the small groups participated in solo work. Lee Paul averaged one French Horn solo a month and Bill and Gretchen Wiseman sang eight times each during the year. They also sang together several times. Arlene Swift sang for high school assemblies and senior play. Marcia Carey sang for senior play. Jean Sawyer, a clarinetist, played twice for church, once for Farm Bureau and both the Christmas and Spring Musical. Jean Lovig, a junior high student, played clarinet solos at church, Farm Bureau, and for the Spring Musical. All these students, with the exception of Jean Lovig, participated in music contest which was held in Marshalltown.

ATHLETICS

BASEBALL

Gilman's baseball season in the Fall of '43 was one that was short of victories, the team winning two and losing four, due chiefly to the erratic play of all members on the team, there being a total of 50 errors in the 6 games, with 7 inning games, thus more than one per inning, which loses many games. No spring baseball was played in the spring due to the fact that school was out on May 5th, to help farmers with their work.

Bill Wiseman was chosen honorary captain for the team. His work on the mound was one of the strong points of the team, striking out 43 men in the 6 games.

The hitting was highlighted by the Green brothers, Gerald and Lewis, who each collected 9 hits to bat over .400. Power hitting was done by Lewis Green with 2 triples and 2 doubles, Richard Spencer and Wayne Richardson each with 1 triple and 1 double, Gerald Green with 1 three bagger, and Bill Wiseman and Kenneth Ludlow each with a two bagger.

Following are individual and team statistics for the season, giving games, at bats, hits, errors, and strikeouts:

BASKETBALL

Newburg, 29 - - Gilman, 25

In a rip-roaring contest at the local floor, Newburg and Gilman played a thriller to start the season. With the score deadlocked 11 to 11 at the half, they played on even terms during the second half. With the score at 25-25 when the 32 minutes were gone, Newburg came back with 4 points in the overtime period to clinch the game. Robertson, Hauser, and Wiseman with 6 points each for Gilman, and Cloyd with 12 and Stevens with 7 for Newburg led the scorers. Gilman was minus the reserve strength of Muckler and G. Green.

Gilman, 40 - - LeGrand, 22

The local lads bounced back after their initial defeat to decisively beat LeGrand. Leading 19 to 10 at half time, the Gilman boys were never seriously threatened. Robertson took scoring honors with 17 points. Wiseman tallied 10 points for the locals, while Shope with 14 points was high for LeGrand.

Gilman 46 - - Dunbar, 8

Gilman trounced the helpless Dunbar lads, in an uneventful contest. Wiseman scored 14 points, Muckler 10, Robertson and G. Green each 8 points for Gilman, while little Donnie Rosfjord scored 7 of Dunbar's 8 points. Gilman led 19-4 at the half.

Gilman, 70 - - Ferguson, 27

Gilman took a high-scoring fray on the local floor from Ferguson, with Wiseman hotter than grandma's frying pan. Scoring from anywhere on the court almost at will, Bill put his uncanny offcolor shots through the hoop 17 times to make a total of 34 points, which is probably a record for the local floor. Robertson with 13 points for Gilman, and Sloat for Ferguson with 15 were other leading scorers. Gilman led 35-17 at the half.

Gilman, 29 - - Montour, 26

In a game which was easily Gilman's best played contest of the season, Gilman dodged Montour on the Montour floor which was a thriller until the final gun sounded. Coming from behind 14-18 at the half, Gilman played a superb game, especially through the efforts of Muckler and "Skip" Green, who were everywhere, getting rebounds, and stopping Montour defensively. Leading Montour was R. Vana, one of the smoothest players in the section, with 15 points, and Muckler and Robertson with 7 points each for Gilman. Since Montour went to the state tournament last year, and this year went on to be beaten by Waverly, the State Champs, in the sub-state tournament, Gilman can well be proud of this victory. Since the locals also won the second team contest, it was the first double-setback Montour has suffered during the last four years.

Green Mountain, 31 - - Gilman, 24

In a postponed contest, Gilman was beaten at Green Mountain in a well played game, by the team destined to become 1944's Marshall County Champions. Gilman outscored the Mountaineer's in the last half, but fell short of victory. Halftime score was 21-13. Brierly scored 11 points, Lynch, a flashy player, 10, and Ewoldt 8 for Green Mountain. For Gilman, leading scorers were Wiseman with 9 tallies and Spencer with 5. A tough game to lose.

Gilman, 31 - - Newton YMCA, 30

Behind 11 to 12 at the half, Gilman won an evenly played fray here from a fast breaking Y. M. C. A. outfit. Kumm with 11 and Sherrick with 10 points led Newton, while Wiseman with 12, Robertson with 9, and Hauser with 6 led the locals.

Gilman, 34 - - LeGrand, 26

With a slow first half lead of 16 to 9, the contest developed into the roughest affair of the year, with Gerald Green stopping one man with what appeared to be a flying tackle. Robertson scored 11 points, Wiseman and Muckler 7 each, and Green scored 5 points. For LeGrand, even scoring also prevailed with Erickson, Shope, and Naig each getting 6 points, and Phipps getting 5.

Newburg, 26 - - Gilman, 21

The near-south rivals again upset Gilman in a close contest which was tied at 15 all at the half. The locals were unable to stop Stevens, speedy left-handed hook-shot specialist, who peppered the basket for 13 points, and Cloyd, who tallied 8. Gilman scoring was again evenly divided, with Muckler making 5 points, and Spencer, Robertson, and Wiseman 4 each.

State Center, 49, - - Gilman, 32

Our worst setback of the season came in the county tournament with a rangy outfit and the sharp-shooting and speed of Ethington, forward for the State Center team, in a game which saw Gilman cold and never hitting the stride at all. Ethington hit for 24 points and Honeck for 13 for State Center, while Gilman players scored as follows: Wiseman, 12; Robertson, 7; G. Green 6. We were behind 10 to 19 at the half.

Gilman, 38 - - Dunbar, 13

In a home game, weakly played, Gilman again defeated Dunbar by a large margin, after leading at half time 14 to 8. Wiseman bagged 17 and Robertson 13 for Gilman, while Rosfjord got 7 points and R. Hobbs got 6 points for Dunbar.

Montour, 33 - - Gilman, 25

Montour avenged the early season upset in a good game, in which Montour led 21 to 15 at halftime, and were never headed. Wiseman's 20 point attack was high for Gilman, while R. Vana had 11 and Downs had 10 for Montour.

Gilman, 31 - - Laurel, 17

The home quintet easily beat a good Laurel team which had an off night at the local court. Bill Wiseman again took scoring honors with 18 points, and Robertson made 7, while Dye, outstanding Laurel player made 11 points.

Gilman, 27 - - LeGrand, 25

This game in the sectional tournament at Tama proved to be a thriller, with Gilman on the short end of an 8-14 half-time score. A hot battle near the finish, the score changed hands many times during the 4th quarter, and with Gilman behind 25-23 with 25 seconds to play, Robertson dumped in a goal to tie the score. LeGrand failed to score with their opportunity, and with only 3 seconds to go, Bill Wiseman somehow secured the ball, and let fly a long shot from the center of the floor which swished the net as the final gun sounded, stunning and delighting fans according to partialities. Robertson led Gilman with 8 points, followed by Wiseman and Muckler with 6 each, and Spencer with 5. Shope played an outstanding game for LeGrand, getting 11 points.

Chelsea, 27 - - Gilman, 23

Gilman could not get enough scoring punch to tip a rugged bunch of Bahemians from Chelsea, although the locals led 13 to 11 at the half, in this semifinal round game at Tama. Hanzelka of Chelsea got hot on long shots the last half and poured through 5 of them to take scoring honors with 10 points. Fetter of the same team scored 9 and Behounek scored 6. For the Gilman team, 4 men did all of the scoring, with Wiseman again leading with 8, Robertson, Spencer, and Muckler with 6, 5, and 4 points respectively. This marked the final game of the season, with a season's record of 9 victories and 6 defeats.

THUMBNAIL SKETCHES OF EACH PLAYER

Donald Robertson. Was voted honorary captain at the close of the season. Three-year letterman, being a regular forward for two seasons. A big man, 6'2½", he developed into a good rebounder near the close of the year, as well as a good scorer. Donald made the tying basket in the Newburg game here, and in the LeGrand game at the sectional, besides being high scorer in the LeGrand game here with 17 points.

Bill Wiseman. A three-year letter-winner, being a first string man all three seasons. He was Gilman's principal scoring threat throughout the season, building up 183 points for the season for an average of 12.2 per contest. His banner night was against Ferguson, with a total of 34 points. Bill made a spectacular long shot in the LeGrand game at the sectional tourney to bring a GHS victory in the final three seconds. He was 6'1", 175 pounds, is hard to shove around, and very valuable under both baskets. He was a first team guard of the Marshall County Championship team as a sophomore. Bill played both forward and center on this year's team.

Lee Hauser. He has been a regular and a letterman for two seasons. One of the hardest working boys on the squad, steady and cool under fire. Lee played forward and guard, and was one of the outstanding defensive men on the squad. A good example of sportsmanship.

Lee Paul. This was his first year as a regular, although he had lettered as a junior. Lee was laid low by an appendectomy in January, and his loss was felt by the squad. Lee played guard, had a never-say-die spirit, and tried for all balls from the defensive backboard.

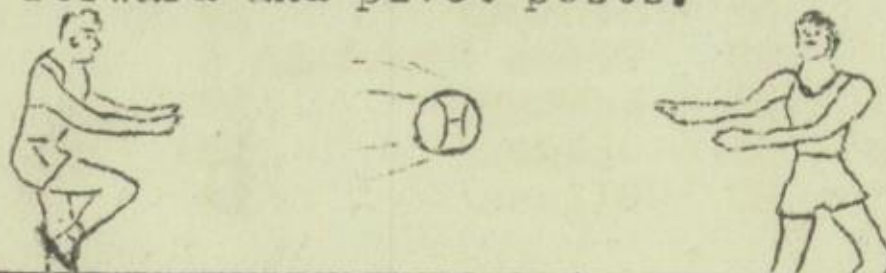

Richard Spencer. A junior, Richard played all season as a regular guard. He had lettered as a sophomore. Richard had an uncanny eye from the free throw line, a smooth working player in advancing the ball down the floor.

Duane Muckler. A junior, Duane is big and aggressive. His fighting spirit is evidenced by the fact that he made the most personal fouls during the season. This was his second season as a major letter winner. During the first half of the season, Duane led the second team and then would break into the varsity game to contribute to the Gilman cause. Duane's work at center was especially outstanding in the Gilman win over Montour just before Christmas.

Gerald Green. A junior, Gerald had been a regular at guard as a sophomore. His specialty was retrieving the ball on rebounds, and possessed the best follow-in ability on the Gilman squad. Along with Muckler, he sparked the reserves to early season victories, and then came into the varsity lineup when the starters failed. His work in the Montour game at Montour decided that contest. A good free-thrower. When Gerald quit school, the loss was felt by the squad.

Wayne Paul. A sophomore, Wayne won his letter as a reserve guard. Some observers labeled Wayne the smoothest-working man on the entire squad, with a lot of promise.

Gene Patterson. He rounds out the list of letter-winners, by his size and good shooting ability. A sophomore, Gene played both at forward and pivot posts.

BOYS' CLASS TOURNAMENT

Sophomores 33, Freshmen 20

Led by Patterson with 15 points and Kvinlaug with 8, the sophomores decisively whipped the Freshmen. Martin Lovig scored 9 points for the losers.

Seniors 38, Juniors 25

In a rough battle, which saw 4 juniors and 1 senior leave the game via the foul route and 41 fouls in the game, the seniors behind Robertson's 17 points, took the juniors. Muckler scored 12 points to lead the juniors.

Seniors 26, Sophomores 23

With Robertson again leading the seniors with 13 points, they took the tournament by whipping the sophomores. Bob Kvinlaug scored 16 points for the sophs.

--- JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL ---

The Junior High basketball team played 7 games, with the following players:

F - - James Paul
F - - Frank Patterson
C - - Bob Carey
G - - Kenneth Lavender
G - - Jon Ramsey

Manager - - Don Dougherty

Reserves:

F - - Donald DeWitt
F - - Billy Holland
F - - Carroll Anderson
C - - Richard Midthum
G - - Dale Stonewall
G - - Marvin Shank
G - - Billy Spencer

Season's Record:

Grinnell	35	Gilman	14

Grinnell	36	Gilman	16
Laurel	27	Gilman	5
Colfax	36	Gilman	1
Laurel	23	Gilman	3
Newburg	30	Gilman	19

In addition, the freshmen beat the Jr. high 37-12 and the Junior High beat the Sixth grade twice, 12-11 and 12-7. In most of the games played the Gilman Junior high squad was decidedly outsized. The best played game of the year was the last game with Newburg, when the two teams were tied at the half by a score of 14 to 14.

— GIRLS' BASKETBALL —

There was no girl's basketball team this year, but a few games were played by the girls that were out for physical training. Girls that played in some of the games are as follows:

Seniors: LeVonne Doane and Doris Shuler.
 Juniors: Darlene Waltemeyer, Vivian Stonewall, Arlene Swift, Jean Huston, Shirley Shollenbarger.
 Sophomores: Ethelyn Holmes, Nadine Stonewall, Mildred Muckler, Darlene Shuler, Bonnie Shank.
 Freshmen: Jean Sawyer, Louise Westerfield, Helen Ludlow, Marjorie Weidner.

Fr-Sophs 28, Jr-Srs. 8

The lower classmen won, as Holmes and Darlene Shuler hit consistently. Doris Shuler and Arlene Swift looked good for the upper classmen.

Newburg 16, Gilman 6

Newburg outclassed the Gilman girls all the way, but not without a valiant fight from the locals. Arlene Swift and Ethelyn Holmes played best for Gilman, while Bennington showed up well for Newburg, scoring 7 points.

Gilman 26, Dunbar 13

Gilman romped over Dunbar's second team as Waltemeyer scored 10 and Holmes scored 6, in a game played at Gilman.

Gilman 40, Dunbar 25

The locals again beat Dunbar there, with Waltemeyer scoring 15 for Gilman, and Rosfjord hitting 23 for Dunbar.

Gilman Fr-Sophs. 25, Newburg Fr-Sophs. 20

With Gilman behind at the half, Louise Westerfield led the lower classmen to a victory over a similar sextet at Newburg.

— GIRLS CLASS TOURNAMENT —

Sophomores 28, Freshmen 7

Sophs win behind 16 points of Mildred Muckler.

Seniors 12, Juniors 11

Doris Shuler scores all 12 points, while Waltemeyer scores 8 for the juniors.

Sophomores 27, Seniors 24

Darlene Shuler scores 17 points to lead sophomores to take tournament, while Marcia Carey gets 13 for the seniors.

-- SCHOOL BOARD --

The Gilman Consolidated School is fortunate in having the services of an efficient board of education. Members of the school board are the legal representatives of the district, with responsibility for the general supervision of educational matters. Here is the personnel:

R. J. Paul, president	1915-1944
T. S. Weaver, director.	1927-1944
H. G. Bennett, director .	1916-1925 and 1936-1944
R. L. Tone, director.	1938-1944
Robert Lovig, director.	-1944
Mrs. Velma Hill, secretary.	1943-1944
R. W. Millen, treasurer	1938-1944

Previous to the regular election in March, 1944, J. S. McCord had served as director since 1935. Mr. McCord did not seek reelection. It is noteworthy, then, that the personnel of the school board at election time this spring included five men whose total period of service was 78 years, or an average of over 15 years experience for each director. Another significant fact is that R. J. Paul is now in his 30th year as a member of the board of education, and during all of that period Mr. Paul has served as president of the Gilman board.

"A RECORD"

-- BUS DRIVERS --

Approximately 65% of the school enrollment is transported in five school busses operated by the district. Four of these conveyances are modern vehicles, designed for comfortable travel. Every effort is made to insure the safety of the pupils. At present the transportation system is under the general regulations of ODT, with the intention of conserving school bus facilities. Here are the drivers:

Frank Coppock
Gerald Stonewall
Robert Lavender
Elgin McGrew
Hadyx Moxley

-- CUSTODIAN --

Claire Waltemeyer has been custodian of the Gilman school buildings since 1935. He devotes full time during the entire year to the upkeep and repair of the plant and grounds. The high school building, erected in 1921, is undoubtedly one of the finest and best equipped in the state. Our elementary school building was constructed in 1909. Mr. Waltemeyer has full responsibility for heating and maintaining the entire physical plant, and is experienced in his work.

TENTH ANNUAL RADIO SPEAKING PROGRAM

The speech class picked ten students to represent the class in a speaking contest held before the high school assembly with the teachers present serving as judges. Topics and speakers were as follows:

- A. Follow the Example of the Armed Forces--Get A Chest X-Ray
Arlene Swift
Joan Huston
Lee Hauser
- B. Why Gamble with Tuberculosis? Get Well In The Sanatorium
Genevieve Strand
Vivian Stonewall
Colleen Palmer
Dorothy Brown
- C. The Christmas Seal--Its Place And Power
Darlene Waltemeyer
Gretchen Wiseman
Isla Moxley

These speakers were presented before the high school, and Joanne Huston, Colleen Palmer, and Gretchen Wiseman were selected as the winners. They presented their talks over Radio Station KFJB on Thursday, December 16, 1943, at 5:30 p.m. as a part of the program sponsored by the Iowa Tuberculosis Association.

- - HOT LUNCH PROGRAM - -

The hot lunch program started this year on November 8. The program differs considerably from last year. This year each lunch costs 15¢ and all food is bought locally. Last year the government furnished commodities, while this year they reimbursed the school 9¢ for each plate.

There are between 145 and 150 students being served daily, with the lunches to be continued until the close of the school year.

There are three cooks this year, Mrs. Penelope Breeden; Mrs. Bert Barnes, and Mrs. Sarah Ludlow. Mrs. Breeden has helped since the lunches were first started, and Mrs. Barnes has helped since last year.

The lunches being served are classed as type A. They include penny milk, along with a complete meal. Some of the foods usually served during the week are: chicken and noodles, baked beans, some kind of soup, raw vegetables, milk or cocoa, and for dessert usually fresh fruit, cake, or cookies. Once each week hot chocolate is served.

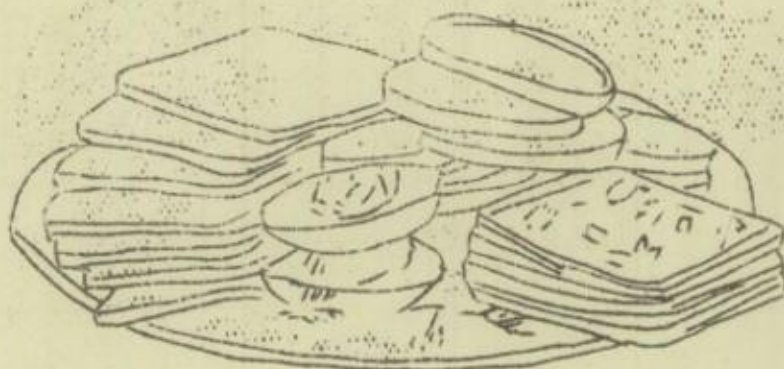

At the end of each month a report is submitted to the War Food Administration. The federal government reimburses the local school for foods purchased from a designated list.

In a typical month a total of 2880 meals were served. Expenditures for food were $274.04, of which $259.20 was reimburseable by the government. The local school bears all expenses for salaries of cooks, and other necessary items.

The government-sponsored lunch program cooperates in the utilization of foods that are plentiful during particular seasons. Thus, when potatoes are plentiful, schools are urged to use more potatoes, and when other products are more plentiful, they should be substituted accordingly.

Almost 100% of the rural children in school eat their lunches by this plan, and many of the town children also take advantage of the program.

Mrs. Reba Erickson, local home economics teacher, has done a splendid job in supervising this activity, spending from 11 o'clock through the noon hour, as well as much of her spare time in keeping the program running.

= SERVICEMEN'S DIRECTORY =

(The following list of addresses was compiled by the local post of the American Legion. Some of the addresses of servicemen were not available, but an effort was made to make this list as up to date as possible. There may also be some more recent addresses for some of the men, but since mail is forwarded, and many of the men are constantly changing addresses, we hope that this list will serve a useful purpose in getting more letters to the men in the service of our country.)

-- ALUMNI DIRECTORY --

Note---(This list has been compiled by seniors, mostly by interview of local Gilman people. We wish to thank all of those who have had a hand in helping to make this list as complete as possible. We realize that some of this information will be in error, but it will still serve as a handy and useful guide in any local household. The addresses of servicemen were not included in this list, therefore they are starred with an asterisk(*), and are found on the pages previous in this annual.)

IN A LIGHTER VEIN

It was a dark night and the cyclist was lost. Presently he saw a post. With difficulty he climbed the post, struck a match and read "WET PAINT!"

* * * *

Wifey (working crossword puzzle) "Honey, what's a female sheep?"
Hubby--"Ewe"(and the fight was on).

* * * *

A customer sat down at a table in a restaurant and tied his napkin around his neck. The manager called the waiter and said to him: "Try to make that man understand as tactfully as possible that that's not done here."

The waiter approached the man and said: "Shave or haircut, sir?"

Two Nazis were talking to each other, on a street corner in Berlin. They noticed a man coming down the street. "Look at that guy," said one, "had he ever got a dumb look about him. Just like an idiot. Look at that hair dangling over his eyes like a Shetland pony."

"What are you saying!" snapped the friend. "That's Hitler!"
"You know," said the first Nazi, "It's a funny thing---on him it looks good!"

A western rancher suspected his neighbor of rustling cattle, but being a religious man he didn't like to accuse him of it, so he wrote him the following message: "Dear Pete: Please don't leave your red-hot branding irons laying around any more so my cows can lie down on them!"

Two hillbillies who had never been on a train before had been drafted, and were on the way to camp. A man came thru the train selling bananas. The two mountaineers never had seen bananas and each bought one. As one of them bit into his banana the train entered a tunnel. His voice came to his companion in the darkness:

"Jed, have you et yours yet?"
"Not yet," answered Jed. Why?"
"Well, don't touch it. I've et one bite and gone blind!"

"I am Brave Eagle," said the Red Indian chieftain, introducing himself to the pale-face visitor. "This is my son, Fighting Bird."
"And here," he added, "is my grandson, Four-Engined Bomber."

JUST THE CURE FOR HITLER

Snoring, restlessness, fitful tossing, cured by Dr. Chon Li's Chinese Herbs. Users have been sleeping quietly for over 40 years!

* * * *

Breathes there a man with soul so dead, who never to himself hath turned his head and said, "HMMMMM, not bad!"

Church service was over, and three of the congregation walked home together, discussing the message they had heard. "I tell you," said the first enthusiastically, "Dr. Blank can certainly dive deeper into the truth than any minister I have ever heard!"

"Yes," said the second man, "And he can stay under longer." "Yes," echoed the third, "and come up drier."

SNAPPY STORY?

"George broke up my party the other evening. He started to tell a story and I had to send him home."

"Well?"

"But all the rest followed him home to hear the end of it."

The aviation cadet was walking with his girl friend. A plane passed high overhead. "Oh, what a pretty airplane," commented the girl. "What kind is it?"

The young student looked again. "Why, that's a mail plane." The girl's eyes opened wide. "How can you tell from here?"

If everybody practiced what they preached, there wouldn't be any preaching to practice.

Virgil was dug out of the wreck and carried to the nearest doctor's office. Doctor: Can I do anything for him? I'm the veterinary surgeon."

Virgil: "That's all right, doc, I'm a jackass to think I could do fifty on those tires!!!"

A cynic remarks that the fellow who coined the term "marriage altar" must have been an Englishman who dropped his "H's".

Failure is the path of least persistence.

How many students are there in Gilman? "About one in every five."

A fool and his gasoline tickets are soon parted.

Forgive us our skids as we forgive those who skid against us.

He that looketh upon a woman loseth a fender.

Consider the traffic light, as it will save thee from the police court.

"Why, don't you know that's a quotation from Shakespeare? Shakespeare is immortal!"

"What do I care about his sex life?"

Girl: How is it Bill never takes you to the movies any more?

Other girl: Well, one evening it rained and we stayed home!

Beneath this stone lies Murphy
They buried him today;
He lived the life of Riley--
While Riley was away.

Getting the baby to sleep is hardest when she's about 18 years old.

The reason many an old rooster crows before anyone is up is because he doesn't dare to open his mouth after the old hen awakens!

Advice is the counsel old men give young men when they no longer can set them a bad example.

You can always tell a FRESHMAN
By the foolishness in his eyes;
You can always tell a SOPHOMORE
By the green and gaudy ties.
You can always tell a JUNIOR
By the smile he has and such;
You can always tell a SENIOR--
But you cannot tell him much.

* * *

Virgil--Of course I should much prefer an A to an F.
Mrs. Kelley--That's strange, that you should prefer a perfect stranger to an old acquaintance.

If a body see a body
Flunking in a quiz
If a body help a body
Is it anybody's biz?

A little speck of powder,
A little dab of paint,
Makes an ugly freckle
Look as if it ain't.

* * *

"Yes," said proud Mrs. Ludlow, "Kenneth is such a good boy, and so fond of dumb animals. Why, only last night I heard him say in his sleep, 'Feed the kitty, feed the kitty.'"

F ailed in mathematics

Raymond Quigley applied at a recruiting station to enlist.
"I suppose you want a commission," said the officer.
"No, thanks," was his reply, "I'm such a poor shot, I'd rather work on a straight salary."

Blessings on thee, pretty miss;
Quaker maid I long to kiss.
With thy merry wanton quips,
And thy quirking lipstick lips.
All that sort of thing connotes
That thee knows thy Quaker Oats.

Mr. Voelker--How did you like my talk at night school the other evening on agricultural problems?
A. B. Schultz--Twarn't bad; but a good day's rain would do a heap more good.

Shakespeare Applied to the School
 Freshmen--"A Comedy of Errors."
 Sophomores--"As You Like It."
 Juniors--"Much Ado About Nothing."
 Seniors--"Alls Well that Ends Well."

* * *

Mrs. Rhum(to husband coming home from basketball game)--
 "Is that you, Gordon?"

Mr. Rhum--"It'd better be!"

* * *

GIRLS MUST NOT READ THIS!!

If there's anything that worries a woman
 It's something she ought to know;
 But you bet she'll find out somehow,
 If she gets the least kind of a show.
 Now we'll bet 10 cents to a farthing,
 This poem she has already read;
 We knew she would get at it somehow,
 If she had to stand on her head.

* * *

Mr. Rhum--Where is that report you were to have for today?

Loren--That's just what I was wondering.

Jack was nimble
 Jack was quick
 But seniors make excuses
 Pretty "1%(%& slick.

Mrs. Rhum--What would be worse than a man without a country?
 Doris Shuler--A country without a man.

"Failed in English, flunked in Math!"
 They heard him softly hiss,
 I'd like to find the guy that said,
 That ignorance is bliss.

* * *

Miss Scandrett--Bob, will you name some of the Spanish explorers and tell what they did?

Bob Carey--DeSoto went up the Mississippi river on horseback.

This verse does not mean a thing
 It's merely here for volume,
 We simply copied the gol durn thing,
 to fill this gosh durned column!
